Getting around

Melbourne features a good train, tram and bus network. The nearest train station to Trinity College is Melbourne Central. Trams are a good way to get around the city. Any tram travelling South along Royal Parade will go to the City Centre (approx. 10 mins). A timetable is located on the post at the tram stop (no 12) in front of the Trinity College Chapel. Returning to Trinity College from the City you must take tram no. 19 'North Coburg' and get off at stop 12.

Public Transport Ticket System

For travel on trains, trams and buses in the Melbourne Metropolitan area, customers are expected to purchase a Myki, a reusable smart card ($6 card cost). For travel payment, customers can then purchase/store on the card, either 'myki money' (dollar value) or a 'myki pass' (travel days).

Cost of travel: Eg. Using 'myki money', a full fare 2 hour trip in Zone 1 will cost you $3.28. All-day use will be capped at $6.56. Remember to touch on and touch off for each journey to avoid being overcharged. For consecutive travel days (any number of days between 7 and 365) you should purchase/store 'myki pass' eg. 7 day pass for Zone 1 travel will cost $32.80. (Prices as of August 2012).

Where to buy: All metropolitan train stations, some accessible tram stops, some bus interchanges, PTV Hub myki Centre (cnr Swanston & Little Collins St), 7-Eleven stores (eg. Across the road from Trinity College) and selected retailers where you see the myki sign.
